

Roger S. Goldberg Award – Request for Nominations

In preparation for the 2012 AMC, we are pleased to request nominations for the Roger S. Goldberg Award that will be presented during the AMC Opening Session on April 30, 2012.

Roger Goldberg was an Embry Riddle Aeronautical University graduate who joined ARINC in 1987. He became a participant in AMC in 1989 and served as Assistant Secretary under Larry Carpenter. He became AMC Executive Secretary in 2001. Roger was a man of great energy and passion, not only in life, but in his belief that the AMC was one of the greatest tools the aviation industry has to promote safety and integrity in the airline business. To know Roger was to know that he "lived, ate, and breathed" all things AMC.

Roger S. Goldberg

Each year, ARINC Industry Activities encourages nominations for the award prior to the annual AMC. The inscription on the award simply states those characteristics which Roger offered to us all: Extraordinary Ideas, Outstanding Service, Endless Passion. This award recognizes the individual in the AMC community who, like Roger, exhibits the same characteristics of outstanding personal service and exemplifies the true heart and soul of AMC—an AMC Most Valuable Player (MVP).

Since 2007, the Roger S. Goldberg Award has been presented to an outstanding member of the avionics maintenance community.

To submit a nomination, please think about a person who has impressed you by exhibiting and exemplifying these characteristics—in the true spirit that would honor Roger's memory.

Next, using the nomination form at <http://www.aviation-ia.com/amc/upcoming/index.html>, please complete and submit your candidate prior to the January 31, 2012 deadline.
